TULIPS

DARWIN TULIPS

In modern times no tulips have aroused the admiration that has been accorded to the Darwins. Vigorous in growth with larger flowers and longer stems than any other, and at the same time exhibiting the most clear, delicate and beautiful colors of the family. Their colors range through all the shades of pink and red, from mauve to deep purple, violets and almost blacks. In the garden they show best planted in groups or clumps of ten or more of one variety and they need not be disturbed for several years. They bloom in May, long after all other Holland Bulbs have passed. For house decoration where soft colors and long stems are required they are simply unrivalled.
